

On a daily basis, Danna McKitrick's Real Estate attorneys work through transactions involving real estate acquisition, leasing, construction, financing, joint ventures, Section 1031 Like-Kind Exchanges, land and project development, boundary disputes, title and survey issues, and more. We provide you with the initial legal advice you need when structuring a project and we offer professional legal representation to carry you through the closing and post-closing aspects of a transaction.

Our Real Estate team represents lenders, investors, title insurance companies and their insureds, brokers and property managers, and developers. We interpret, negotiate, and help close deals and we are prepared to untangle deals going or gone awry. We regularly handle issues involving foreclosure, lease enforcement, tenant disputes, and management agreements.

We also represent condominium and community associations: commercial condominium associations, residential condominium associations, homeowner associations, and individual owners. We cover the entire spectrum of legal counseling for associations, boards, and owners including fiduciary litigation and Directors & Officers liability.

We offer experienced judgment and advice in all aspects of real estate law and practice.

From acquiring a property, forming agreements on planning, zoning, drafting, and government approvals, structuring financing on ownership, and the protection of your expectations, we are capable of managing the details of every phase of your transaction.
